Investigate the Syndicate.

In the ARGUS' issue of yesterday we published a communication from Washington to the Cincinnati Enquirer, containing an allegation against Secretary Sherman in his management of the 4 per cent bonds and his relations with the Syndicate, which if true, either in a general or special sense, is part of Congress. We quote from the St. Louis Republican in regard to the matter, which coincides with the opinion we have expressed.

A serious charge has been made against Secretary Sherman by the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, in the telegram republished by the Republi can, stating that he has refused offers from reputable and responsible bankers to take the whole of the 4-per-cent bonds at par. If there is any trustworthy information indicating the possibility of this statement being true, congress should proceed at once to investigate the matter. Indeed, it has heretofore been so plain that Mr. Sherman has, at least, not done all that he might do publican has several times called on the Men's Alexis, Shoes, $1.75, at the house to take up the syndicate business and thoroughly ventilate it.
